

Colombia 10/2023

romain.bocquier@gmail.com

We travel with wild about colombia mainly to try to see the mountain tapir, rod and the differents guides was absolutly perfect !

rob@wildaboutcolombia.co

Mountain tapir (Tapirus pinchaque) : 2 Otùn Qimbaya in one night

Gray-bellied night monkey (Aotus lemurinus) : 2 groups O. Qimbaya along road during the night

Brumback's night monkey (Aotus brumbacki) : 1 family group Villavicencio in the hotel garden

Gray-handed night monkey (Aotus griseimembra) : 1 family group close to Victoria

Common woolly monkey (Lagothrix lagothricha) : +++ Cerro Azul

Colombian red howler (Alouatta seniculus) : 1 Cerro Azul

White-footed tamarin (Saguinus leucopus) : +++ Rio Claro

Black titi monkey (Cheracebus lugens) : 3 On the road to Cerro Azul

Ornate titi monkey (Plecturocebus ornatus) : 6 Close to Villavicencio

Humboldt's squirrel monkey (Saimiri cassiquiarensis) : +++ On the road to Cerro Azul

Tufted capuchin (Sapajus apella) : 1 Group on the road to Cerro Azul

Brazilian squirrel (Sciurus aestuans) : 1 in Cerro Azul

Red-tailed squirrel (Sciurus granatensis) : 1 Rio Claro

Amazonian long-tailed porcupine (Coendou longicaudatus) : 1 Cerro Azul come at the door, night

Central American agouti (Dasyprocta punctata) : 1 in Manizales coffee plantation

Brown-eared woolly opossum (Caluromys lanatus) : 1 in Rio claro at night

Brown-throated sloth (Bradypus variegatus) : 1 in Rio Claro at night

Amazon river dolphin (Inia geoffrensis) : 5 in Puerto Arturo

Lesser dog-like bat (Peropteryx macrotis) : Cerro Azul

Greater dog-like bat (Peropteryx kappleri) : Cerro Azul

Silky short-tailed bat (Carollia brevicauda): Cerro Azul

Great fruit-eating bat (Artibeus lituratus) : Cerro Azul

Striped hairy-nosed bat (Mimon crenulata): Cerro Azul

Common vampire bat (Desmodus rotundus): Cerro Azul

